And See What the Moon-eyed Lepers
(Have Done With a White Man.

(Cor. Cincinnati Enquirer.)

In the year 1817, at Alexandria, Huntington county, Pa., lived Nicodemus Yocum, by trade a blacksmith. His wife, whose maiden name was Nancy Brown, had, before marriage, emigrated with her parents from Cape Cod, Mass. While living at Alexandria, they had three children. The eldest, in 1817, was named for his father. About 1835 Mr. Yocum emigrated with his wife's people back to Cape Cod. Here Nicodemus, the younger, had grown to manhood, and in the course of time became captain of a whaling vessel, which cruised for years with varying success in the North Pacific ocean. When on a homeward voyage in 1841, off the southern coast of China, he rescued a disabled junk, containing, besides the sailors, five Chinese mandarins of high rank. The helpless vessel was towed into the harbor of Yungow, where Captain Yocum and his American crew were loaded with presents. One of the mandarins could speak English, having learned it from a Catholic missionary on the island of Pescadore. Several of the American sailors understood the same language, and a happy conversation was engaged in. In due time the junk returned to Cape Cod, where Captain Yocum found that his wife was dead, having left a two year old son, named Jeremiah. One year afterward Captain Yocum sailed for the China sea. Entering the mouth of the river Po-Kiang, messages were sent to Canton to the rescued mandarins of two years before, and the Yankee ship was permitted to go into the harbor. In return for his father's kindness, Jeremiah was sent to the Royal Preparatory school at the above named city, and at the age of 17 entered the Imperial college. Here eight years were spent learning the Chinese language. After some time spent as a teacher, he made an English translation of so much Ta tung yith tung che or Geography of the Empire, as relates to the Province of Quanghai. Last year he made a mandarin and was appointed an attaché of the Chinese Embassy now visiting this country. During the coming winter it is his intention to visit Alexandria and hunt up the genealogy of his grandfather's family.

A GIRL'S SUICIDE.

Diana Jones Takes Strychnine Because of Her Affection and Her Father's Harshness.

[Gold Hill News.]

At 4:30 yesterday afternoon a messenger from American Flat came post-haste to Gold Hill, stating that Diana Jones, daughter of Robert Jones, of the Pioneer dairy, aged 14, was in convulsions, and it was feared that she had poisoned herself. Dr. Magee started at once to the rescue, but arrived too late. When he got there she was dead.

The story is a simple and by no means an uncommon one. Diana had formed an attachment for the driver of her father's milk wagon. The love was an honest one, and sprang gushingly from a young, full heart. Yesterday morning her father took her to do for it, and chided her rather harshly. It was more than she could bear. There was in the house some strychnine, which had been purchased to poison coyotes. She took a dose of it about 4 o'clock, and at 5 o'clock was dead.

The deceased was a beautiful girl, beloved by all. No maiden of this section had a brighter future before her, or numbered a larger host of friends. She was unusually bright and attractive, and her early death is sincerely mourned.

Coroner Hodges will hold an inquest.

The Virginia Chronicle, in its account of the affair, says:

Mr. Jones has been peculiarly unfortunate with his children. About two years ago two of his most promising boys were frozen to death while out hunting for cattle in a severe snow storm. Three more died a natural death, and now he has lost his sixth child under the most heartbreaking circumstances.

Cheerful Amusement.
(Philadelphia Bulletin.)

A Cincinnati man is responsible for the following: Some years ago, at the funeral of a friend, I was sitting in a carriage with a person who in face carried all the hallmarks of woe. I was not aware he was acquainted with the deceased. I became inquisitive. Said I, "Are you a relation?" "No," "A friend?" "No." In Yankee fashion, I said, "Why attend this funeral and look so sad?" He said, "In fact I am troubled with dyspepsia. My doctor advised me to ride. I am too poor to hire a carriage, and therefore ride free to a funeral." A cheerful situation for a dyspeptic, we should say.

The California agitator wants his epitaph read. "Here lies Kearney the dreamer, etc." Why wait to put it on his tombstone? Let it be painted on the boxes from which he makes his harangues.—New Haven Register.

DESOLATION IN GREECE.

The Region Round About Athens—
What Became of a Country Whose Forests are Destroyed.

A correspondent of the London Times, writing from Athens, speaks of the desolation of the country, caused by the destruction of the forests and the practice of permitting goats to run wild, and adds: It is not God's providence but man's improvidence that one has to thank for this evil. It is centuries of human unthrift and stolidity which has made of Attica a torrid desert for six or seven months in the year. There was a time, as Sophocles tells us, and as the guide-books translate, when beautiful fields bloomed, when nightingales sighed and lamented among the groves of Colonus, along its green hedges and walls mantled with dark ivy. Days are mentioned when the Cephissus and Ilissus were streams of water and not beds of arid stones as they are now; when people could talk of sacred foliage, teeming with fruits in shady coolness, nourished by gentle breezes, untouched by storms. The ravages of man have done away with all that. Men still living here remember the fires with which the last strips of forests in the glens of Hymettus and Pentelicus gleamed round Athens night after night as they do now incessantly in the gorges of the mountains of Albani visible from Corfu. The savage cultivators of the soil in these regions burn their woods to fertilize the fields with their ashes. By the destruction of trees of many ages' growth, they insure a paltry crop for one season. But the experiment can not be twice made; the havoc is now complete; the mischief can no further go. With every trace of vegetation, every vestige of moisture vanished early in the spring from the Attic land. Before the end of May everything is parched, burnt, pulverized. Nothing can be more astonishing than the tantalizing barrenness of the clouds which at that time of the year hang heavily on the horizon—phantom clouds, pregnant in appearance with very deluge, yet hardly squeezing out a drop or two. Just to sprinkle without ever laying the dust. The horrors of such a drought are common enough throughout southern Italy and Spain, and the population of Madrid, for instance, ought to preserve a lively recollection of it. But there Queen Isabella brought in Guadarama, and now the Spanish capital, with a zone of about two miles around it, is being turned from a desert into a garden. We are told that water will likewise be brought, or even is actually being brought into Athens, as also into Florence and Naples. But for what concerns the Greek city it must be borne in mind that it has, unfortunately, no snow mountains within reach no sacred grove where springs may be coaxed up and nursed and screened from the heat of the sun's furnace. All around is bare and scorched and desolate. No one plants trees here; no trees planted would have any chance of living, and where nature by the inexhaustible strength of her recuperative energies, puts forth here a bud, there a bulb, where a chance seed dropped from a bird or wafted by the wind might be the means of covering the land with trees and blessing it with new verdure and moisture, the murderous goats come browsing, crops up, tears up the very rock to which the roots cling with unavailing vital instinct.

A Plucky Baby.

[Nevada Transcript.]

Late Thursday night a lady living at Gold Flat came into the city to get some medicine for a member of her family who was sick. Finding the store closed she called at Mrs. Snell's house, on Cottage street, to learn the whereabouts of the druggist's place of residence, as the case was an urgent one, and she declared the medicine must be obtained at all hazards. Mrs. Snell accompanied her friend to the apothecarist's house, leaving the children at home in bed. When she returned again one of the number, aged only a year and a half, was missing, and the mother was frightened most to death in consequence. About half past 11 officer Canfield found the little wanderer, clad in a night-dress, on Broad street, in front of the Methodist church, and restored it to its home on Cottage street. It appears the plucky baby had started out to hunt its mother, and had put aside all fear of darkness and the like in its desire to find her, if possible.

Miles' Fight With the Bannocks.
CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The official report of General Miles to General Sheridan regarding his recent operations with the Bannock Indians, disproves the story that he had been surrounded, and states that on the 4th instant he surprised the hostiles with the result telegraphed from here on Thursday night. Eleven Indians were killed, thirty-one prisoners and two hundred ponies captured. Captain Bennett, of the Fifth Infantry, and two friendly Crowes were killed.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Don't Forget It.

If you are troubled with nervousness, are disheartened, tired of life, fear death or feel out of sorts, as the saying is, you may safely conclude that you have the Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. The liver is very apt to become torpid at this season of the year, as poisons arising from marshes, stagnant water are more numerous, and are, through inhalation, taken into the blood. Unless the liver is strong and active, and furnishes a supply of fresh and pure blood to drive out the impurities, the above mentioned symptoms surely follow, and if not heeded, end in more terrible diseases and death. White's Liver Cure proves itself the great liver panacea. Its action on the liver is different from any medicine ever compounded. Its cures are truly wonderful. Try it. Price, twenty-five cents and seventy-five cents. For sale by our druggists, OSMORN & SHOENAKER. aut eod

DAGGETT FOR CONGRESS.

The Republican convention which meets on Wednesday next should nominate their Congressman first. They should not consider persons in their choice. The Democrats of this State have placed the very strongest man in their party before the people for this office. They have shown that they appreciate the situation and have forced Mr. Deal to accept the nomination for Congress because the party believes he can be elected. Mr. Deal can be elected as against any man of inferior standing and ability. The Senate of the United States is Democratic, and Nevada has a vote upon the complexion of the next House. If the convention at Eureka selects a man upon personal grounds, or a result of combinations, Nevada will vote against her interests, because the Republican so named will be defeated. This is plain talk, and it is what the convention should heed. The Gazette declares its preference unreservedly for Hon. R. M. Daggett. We do not believe that the gentleman named would accept the nomination unless the Republican party made him see that it was in the nature of a sacrifice for the public good. We do risk contradiction in saying that Mr. Daggett's positive character and acknowledged ability guarantees a brilliant record whenever the people repose trust in him. No man in this State, be he Democrat or Republican can beat Mr. Daggett for the office named, and we are moved to this gratuitous advocacy of his claims, merely because we believe him the very strongest man. A nomination would not please Mr. Daggett—this endorsement may be objectionable to him, we believe, however, that in the present crisis persons and personal feelings are of no concern. We hold that individual members are the personal property of the Republican party. They must be placed where they will do the most good without regard to their personal wishes. Mr. Daggett will sacrifice as much for his party as Mr. Deal. He can vanquish Mr. Deal or any other Democrat in this State, with "a fair field and no favor." The Republican party of this State will lose its natural significance with the people when it makes the nomination for Congressman in this campaign secondary to anything. The party and its convention must be absolute for once in defense of its principles. If we want Mr. Daggett, order him and he will obey. If we understand our own creed let us look to it and secure for it representation. We can do this by electing a Congressman, in no other way. The convention at Eureka should nominate their Congressman first. They should nominate their first man for the office. If they fail in either of these particulars they will neglect their first duty to their allegiance.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Visalia, California, has a first-class sensation. Mr. White took a husband's privilege and hid under the bed the other night, his trusting wife believing him when a few hours before he said he was going off on a little journey. Presently Dr. Mehning called and White saw enough to make him attack the amorous sawbones with a knife. He ended by cutting the doctor's throat from ear to ear. While Mr. White can hardly be said to have done his killing in a very dignified or gentlemanly manner, we have little doubt that a jury will overlook that want of style and acquit him. The man who climbs over the fence into another's matrimonial corral does so at the risk of his life, and everybody knows it. Hence, when Lothario makes a miss and is sent to heaven nobody can regret the sad accident very much.

The crawling midnight shikoy who edits the San Francisco Stock Exchange heaps the vilest abuse upon the workman who strains his muscle daily in getting out this metropolitan journal. His latest wanton assault is to describe us as a "feverish landholder," merely because we have, by honest industry, become possessed of a little over half of Washoe county.

About as prosperous a corporation as exists anywhere now in the railway line is the Pullman Palace Car Company. At the annual meeting, last week, in Chicago, it was shown that the revenue of the past year was $2,100,829, while the expenses were less than a million. The company are fast introducing their cars in every country in Europe.

The yellow fever still continues its ravages in the cities and towns of the South. In Memphis, on Saturday, there were 117 deaths. Things at New Orleans are not quite as bad as they were, and a slight frost at Grenada has bettered the condition of affairs there a little. It is probable that the dreadful plague has reached its climax.

Now we shall hear from our old friend Sitting Bull again. A report has reached Bismarck that over 1000 hostile Sioux are on Sandy creek, near Fort Custer. An officer of mounted police from Fort Benton says that Sitting Bull and his entire force are on this side of the line, splendidly armed and equipped.

A Man Among Men.

(Austin Reville.)
One of these days the rich and powerful of this State will come to a realizing sense of the fact that there are in Nevada journalists—men with no capital other than their brains—who value their own independence and dignity of character higher than money, place or favor; men who can and will make sacrifices for a principle; men who would pack their blankets on their backs over the deserts and mountains from Arizona to Montana, rather than wear the collar of the powers that be. There may be rottenness in Nevada journalism, but all are not rotten. Rollin M. Daggett, editor of the Territorial Enterprise, stands out to-day in a glorious light as the exponent of principle and the people's rights. That he has made personal sacrifices for principle is notorious; that he is ready at any time to lay himself on the altar as an offering, is plain; that, poor in purse as he is, he to-day enjoys the respect, esteem and confidence of the people of Nevada to an extent that could never be attained by the sordid, scheming toadies and lickspittles, if they should come to possess millions piled on millions. It is a glorious thing for a man to be able to put his hand on his heart and say: "I own myself!"

A Black Hills Postmaster.

W. J. Jonas, lately postmaster at Crook City, has been overcome by the influence of that metropolis and gone squarely to the bad. The Black Hills Times, in the following straightforward and touching manner, tells the story of the unfortunate official's degradation: "The people of Crook believe he has gone for good, and petitions are being circulated by a number of persons for the appointment of a postmaster. At the last game of poker he played there he made a grab for the pot, said to represent $125, and claimed it as his money accusing the other players of cheating. He made good his grab by refusing to give it up at the point of a revolver, daring the holder of the weapon to shoot him. It was a clear case of desperation, as he has invariably lost, and probably this was his only chance to secure sufficient money to leave the country with, and to get that he was ready to risk his life, as he is known to have grown reckless of late." There is material in this for a four canto poem by Bret Harte.

A Sleepy Conductor.

(S. F. Bulletin.)
A conductor named Wilbur, on the Oakland and Sacramento section of the Central Pacific railroad, fell asleep in his caboose in 1877, and when the train was on an up grade near Orcutt Bend, the two rear cars and caboose became detached, and, running back collided with other cars, causing damage to the extent of $20,000. The derelict conductor was promptly discharged, and he brought suit to recover $170 for wages due. The company successfully pleaded an offset to his claim, in the Justice's court, on account of the damage. An appeal was taken to the Municipal Court of Appeals, and Judge Freelon has affirmed the judgment of the lower court in favor of the company.

How's This, Dennis?

A Washington dispatch to the Chicago Journal says: Dennis Kearney, in his Baltimore speech, last night stated that the report of the President's interview with him when he was in Washington was manufactured by a "boresotted Bohemian," and yet it is a fact, and capable of proof, that he spent two hours in a newspaper office here with his secretary, Carl Browne, who was negotiating to sell the pretended interview with the President, and that the report of the interview was submitted to Kearney, which was revised by his own hands.

A Chance for Beaconsfield.

(Norristown Herald.)
Lord Beaconsfield calls Gladstone "a sophisticated rhetorician inebriated with the exuberances of his own verbosity." The noble lord should be employed to invent some new names for Kearney. No doubt he would call him "an effusive blatherkite intoxicated with the profuseness of his own implety and profanity."

An Insane Telegrapher.

SAN BERNARDINO, September 14. A. B. Shearer, the telegraph operator who attempted to commit suicide here on Tuesday night, is now a raving maniac, and will be sent to an asylum.

Diseases Among Live Stock.

After referring to the outbreak of glanders in California, the Sacramento Bee of the 13th has the following: Another singular disease among the horses is mentioned by the Sonoma Democrat: Seven head of horses on George Hood's ranch, Knight's Valley have become afflicted with some kind of disease that makes them almost crazy. They remain standing for some time and then commence kicking furiously until perfectly exhausted; and often when in harness and at work the same symptoms attack them and render them useless. The disease is not fatal. One of the animals was killed for the purpose of dissection but the brain was apparently healthy, and there was no trace of poison in the stomach or blood. As yet the disease does not affect the horses of neighboring farms. Many sheep are dying in the region between Tulare and the lake. The owners have not determined whether it is on account of some disease or poison weed. The fattest and best sheep die first. W. L. Overhiser, breeder of thoroughbred stock, San Joaquin county, has recently lost $3000 worth of cattle and hogs from disease which he has effectually quelled. The Stockton Independent says: He first lost a most valuable bull he had on his ranch, Twenty-sixth Grand Turk. A valuable Shorthorn heifer was next attacked and died. On dissecting her it was found that the second stomach was filled with dry food, compacted so hard that it could not pass through its natural channels. This disease is known as the dry murrain, and it is said to be caused by eating too much dry food. The cause being ascertained the remedy was easy—drenching with epsom salts. Feeding partly on alfalfa, or any green grass, is preventive. Mr. Overhiser's hogs were attacked the same time with a disease resembling diphtheria, but called by farmers the quinzey. It was observed that the hogs would sit on their haunches, breathing hard, while their jaws were very much swollen and inflamed. After two had died he found that thirty in all were afflicted. He at once applied remedies, but was unable to save any that were attacked. He administered a compound of sulphur, charcoal and arsenic to the remainder of the drove, and succeeded in preventing a further spread of the disease.

A Long Island Tragedy.

BORN.

TREFFY—In Reno, September 16th, to the wife of N. G. Treffy, a daughter.

JOTTINGS.

— R. P. Ferguson (Old Shingles and Things) was in town yesterday.

— The four-year-old son of Mr. Treadway is down with the scarlet fever.

— The County Commissioners have been sitting to-day as a Board of Equalization.

— It rained pretty heavily early this morning, and to-day the air is delightfully clear and cool.

— A. Abraham, of the White House, will go below to-night to lay in a large stock of furnishing goods.

— Active preparations for the coming State fair are now in progress. The list of special premiums is growing into large dimensions.

— A book-plate containing memoranda some papers was found on Virginia street to-day. The owner can have it by calling at this office.

— The east-bound train to-night will pack away a big load from Reno. The delegates to the Republican State Convention will depart and also a great many others who are interested.

— Harry Michels, Sam Wright, Captain Loyd, W. B. King, C. F. Bickwell, and Judge T. P. Hawley passed through last night to Eureka. To-night there will be a big delegation down from the Comstock bound on the same journey.

— On Saturday night there was a meeting of the Democracy at the Academy of Music for the purpose of forming a club. The following officers were elected: President, J. P. Richardson; Vice-President, Jerry Brown; Recording Secretary, J. M. Flanagan; Corresponding Secretary, Charlie Queen; Treasurer, Chas. Knust.

Is It Glanders?

A disease, thought by some to be the glanders has made its appearance among the horses on Truckee meadow. Breed & Crosby of Virginia have sent several animals which they had sent for pasture to Glendale. It is supposed it was brought to this coast by horses shipped from the East by rail. On the other hand, some horsemen are of the opinion that the disease is not glanders at all, but "button fever," which is believed to be caused by fly bites.

Mr. Duck's Condition.

Mr. Duck is now lying in a very critical condition. Fever has now set in and he is delirious most of the time. Drs. Bergman and Bishop hold out very faint hopes of his recovery. Mr. Duck took enough morphine to kill half a dozen men and the shock to his system was terrible. While everybody must hope for the gentleman's recovery, his friends now hardly dare expect it.

RATTLESNAKE JACK.

A Redoubtable Indian Fighter in the Clutches of the Law.

Sheriff Kyle, of Humboldt county, passed eastward for Winnemucca on Sunday morning's train having in charge Rattlesnake Jack, who was arrested in Sacramento on a charge of having stolen some horses near Stein mountain. Jack was an object of great interest to everybody on the train. He was rigged in a full suit of buckskin, fringes, beads and all, and looked like the cover of a dime novel. His name is Charles Carson, he is about thirty years of age and claims to be a nephew of Kit Carson. He was one of Howard's scouts, and on his arrest wrote to that Christian warrior, protesting his innocence, asking interference in his behalf and signing himself "Charles Carson, or Lone Rattlesnake Jack of the Black Hills." The Winnemucca Silver State gives this account of him: "Jack states that he has served in several Indian wars, having begun in 1884, and during the past eight months has been operating against the Snakes and other Indians, depredating in Idaho, Montana, Oregon, etc. He has killed ten Indians and secured six of their scalps, four of which he had with him when arrested. He says that he has been at different times engaged in fighting the Apaches, Nez Perces and Modocs. His statement is that he was born in Tucson, Arizona, and is a nephew of Kit Carson. The Apaches killed his mother, sister and brothers, and this, coupled with the fact that they captured him and kept him prisoner for a long time, he finally escaping during a buffalo hunt, caused him to swear undying hostility to the redskins. His father is now living at Los Angeles, and he was going thither when arrested. He declares that he has committed no crime, and cannot understand why he should be wanted by the authorities. Jack claims to be an intimate friend of Buffalo Bill and Captain Jack, who, he says once rescued him from the Indians. He has as arms a good Winchester rifle, navy size breech-loading revolver, and a big knife."

Jack confided to a GAZETTE reporter that it took eight men to arrest him in Sacramento, which he considered an excellent joke, as he never thought of resisting. He bothered them to be handcuffed, however. He also mentioned with pride that he once kept camp with Jack Williams' faro game in Virginia City.

At the Track on Saturday.

Everything seemed to conspire against a good time at the race track on Saturday. J. P. Smith, who was announced for a fifty mile ride was sick and the wind was blowing very hard. The crowd was not a very large one, but in order that those present might not be disappointed, Mr. Smith rode ten miles, changing his horse every mile. He made the distance in twenty-six minutes and showed himself to be a magnificent horseman and as spry about getting on and off his animals as a circus bareback artist. At the conclusion of this performance Smith's bay horse, Modoc, and Norcross' Hatlie ran a half-mile dash, which was won by Modoc in 55 1/2. Minnie Woodburn, who was to have run in this race was withdrawn by her owner, Mr. Lake, on account of her having been cut on the left hind leg.

A Handsome House.

J. P. Gray, the Reno merchant, is building a handsome residence about a mile east of town. Mr. Gray has forty acres of land there which he is improving. The house stands on a three-acre lot around which a stone wall five feet in height and six feet thick has been built. The structure is 24 feet eight inches by forty feet eight inches, two stories and containing twelve rooms. The contractors are Debes & Cook, and expect to complete their work by the middle of October.

"Heaving Breathily."

"Come in here, young flier," whispered a man, jerking his thumb over his shoulder toward a saloon this morning.

"What for?" inquired the reporter.

"Colonel Brown's full (ic) fuller'n goose, that's why."

"How do you know?"

"How er know? Wy, he's dead asleep an' heaving breathily."

It was indeed but too true. The reporter saw the Colonel in a chair with his chin on his breast, and, as his friend said, "heaving breathily."

A Mysterious Hole.

The side streets were very muddy to-day after the rain, and a mysterious hole was discovered on Fourth street, near Sierra. It was about three feet deep, two feet wide and six feet long. Some thought it was an old grave that had suddenly sunk, but after a little while it was discovered that the Truckee belle—the niece of the Republican man—who is here on a visit, had accidentally stepped in a soft place. The hole filled with water, and this afternoon small boys were sailing boats in it.

A New Kind of Poercary.

"Cuss a hypocrite," said a leading Renote last evening as he was discussing the demerits of a deacon with another leading citizen. "I hate hypocarcy."

"So do I," said No. 2, "but there's something that's worse than hypocarcy and that's low poercary. There's a heap of it lying around loose in this here town."

WADSWORTH.

A Few Items About a Very Flourishing Town.

A GAZETTE reporter yesterday visited Wadsworth and found the town in a flourishing condition. Wadsworth has a population of about 500, has a neat school-house which is also used for a church when a clergyman happens along, three hotels, five groceries and other business houses. It is the terminus of the Humboldt and Truckee division of the C. P. R. R. and is therefore well patronized by railroad men. The largest machine shop east of Sacramento is located there. A good deal of teaming is done. About thirty teams leave every twenty-five days, with from 14 to 22 animals to the team and each carries from 35,000 to 40,000 pounds of freight. The teams go to Benton, Downville, Ellsworth, Columbus, Lone, Grantville (where a twenty-stamp mill is now going up for the Alexander company), Silver Peak, Gold mountains, Bishop creek and other points. Wadsworth is well supplied with saloons, of course. It is a quiet, well conducted little town and has the merit of being Republican and likewise has the judgement to subscribe eagerly for the GAZETTE.

A Son of Mars.

Lieut. F. A. Smith, for a long time Quartermaster at Fort Bidwell, Modoc county, Cal, is in Reno on his way to San Francisco. He goes from there to Prescott, Arizona, where he has been assigned to duty as Regimental Adjutant of the 12th Infantry. Rumor has it that he will induce an "adjutant-ess" to accompany him on the last half of his journey. We wish the lady every good fortune which war or "rumors of war, can bring. Generally we have considered that the lady was the loser in such an alliance. This may look favorable to Smith. Not so. We have not seen the lady, and besides Smith used to edit the Bidwell Herald. We are therefore generous, at the risk of being court-martialed.

A Voice From Eureka.

The Reno GAZETTE has been enlarged. It finds it necessary, in order to make room for the many pithy, witty conceits of its editor. It furnishes just that kind of reading matter that is readable. Not a dry husk can be found in its columns, and it effervesces and sparkles continually like unto a bottle of champagne newly opened. The readers are treated to a never-ending feast of good things, and they are the veriest dolts if they do not sustain it. It is a standing advertisement of the town, and is quoted from New York to San Francisco. Success to it.

More Heavens Presumption.

"Jahn," said a horny-handed follower of Kearney on Saturday night, as he sneaked into a Reno wash-house, "Jahn, how moochee are yez goin' to charge me fur thim two shirts this wackee?"

"Well," replied the moon-eyed leper, "seeing it's you, I'll only charge four bits. Will that satisfy you?"

"Begob," the Workington explained to the friend who was waiting around the corner for his share of the shirts, "the haythin in there, Moike, shpakes English narely as well as Oi does."

District Court.

The District Court was in session to-day. Following were the proceedings: Campbell vs. Constable Barlow, replevin suit, on appeal from the Justice's Court. Postponed.

Golden Fleece mining company vs. Cable Consolidated mining company—argument upon demurrer to answer. Submitted.

Court adjourned to 10 o'clock A. M., to-morrow.

Another Lucky One.

The latest sweet little Sierra Nevada story comes from Truckee. A man working in the Truckee Lumber company's sack factory, about a year and a half ago, bought 200 shares of Sierra Nevada at $4 per share. No stock list is received at Truckee and the man kept no watch on the market. He heard some fellow workmen talking about the extraordinary rise of the stock and awoke to the fact that he was worth something like $85,000.

The Little Girls' Band.

The Little Girls' Band of Carson, comprising sixteen pieces, will give one of their old and charming entertainments at the Reno opera-house on Thursday evening next. The admission will be fifty and seventy-five cents.

Important to Nevada.

[Stock Report, Friday.]

Mr. C. C. Powling, of the Reno Journal, is visiting this city. As Mr. P. and Charles Davis, Esq., were seen in consultation, it is fair to assume that Nevada will shortly have a new political sensation.

Republican Club.

There will be a gathering of Republicans at the court-house this evening for the purpose of forming a club. The call for the meeting is signed by 133 citizens of Reno, many of them our solidest men. All Republicans are invited to attend.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup.

HYPOPHOSPHITES.

THIS DISCOVERY

Is the result of a series of Scientific Experiments based upon the theory that "for the successful cure of Wasting Diseases, the nervous system must be made vigorous and healthy."

One of the first symptoms of disease affecting either the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, or Genital Organs, is a loss of nervous power. This is followed by muscular relaxation, weakness, and emaciation of all the organs which depend upon them for health or involuntary muscular action, the weaker suffering first.

The Inventor, acting upon this idea, that the muscles and nerves depend upon each other for efficient strength and action, and that they must be treated directly in order to speedily and permanently cure diseases of the organs which they control, became convinced, after months of experiment, that no other preparation produced such potent and direct effects upon the nervous system as his

Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and except in cases of actual organic loss, that it would restore patients suffering from those maladies.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of this remedy are the following:—

Chronic Constipation,
Chronic Dyspepsia,
Asthma,
Chronic Bronchitis,
Consumption,
Chronic Diarrhea,
Chronic Laryngitis,
Melancholy,
Nervous Debility.

Debility, resulting from Typhoid and other fevers, Diptheritic Prostration, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus or Wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia or Loss of Voice, Singingness of the Liver, Interrupted and feeble Action of the Heart, SUPPRESSED FEELINGS caused by mucous obstruction of the Lungs and Air Passages leading to chronic, and Debility from various causes.

Indigestion and habitual Constipation almost always arise from weakness of the muscles and nerves of the stomach and bowels. In such cases, FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicine.

Weakness of the Joints and Muscles, INJURY OF THE BLOOD, and INWARD WASTING may be cured by attention to the regular described doses, and by due regard to the habits of life.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

The power of arresting diseases displayed by this preparation is honorably acknowledged by the medical faculty of every section where it has been introduced, and the large sale is the best guarantee of the estimation in which it is held by the public.

This Syrup will cure PULMONARY CONSUMPTION in the first and second stages, will give great relief and prolong life in the third. It will cure ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LARYNGITIS and COUGHS. It will cure all diseases originating from want of MUSCULAR ACTION and NERVOUS FORCE.

Sold by all Druggists.

Established in 1854.

For the Permanent Cure of all Special and Chronic Diseases, as also all Female Complaints and Diseases of the Nervous System.

THE IMMENSE DESTRUCTION OF human life annually from secret and chronic diseases, caused this old and reliable institution to be established, first in Philadelphia, Penn., in 1850, and afterwards in San Francisco, Cal., in 1854, as a private dispensary, in order to afford the afflicted the best medical and surgical treatment, for the above and all other affections and complaints. Consultation at the Institute, or by letter, FREE.

To the Afflicted:

Dr. L. J. Czapka would most respectfully inform the public of the Pacific coast that, at the earnest solicitation of his numerous friends, and hundreds of those unfortunately afflicted with disease, he has reopened his MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE, and resumed the practice of his profession. The Doctor would remind all those who are in need of medical aid, that since relinquishing his very extensive and successful practice in San Francisco, he has visited the principal cities in Europe, inspecting diligently the best medical and surgical methods, and the benefit from which he offers to all in need of his services. Rheumatic affections, chronic catarrhs, diseases of the stomach and kidney, liver complaints, etc., successfully treated. Those who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, physical and mental debility, are assured of a permanent cure. Charges moderate. SIMMOND'S NABOB WHISKY.

A GREAT REMEDY.

SIMMOND'S NABOB WHISKY.

—FOR—

Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Nervousness.

The Purest and Best

—FOR ALL—

Medicinal and Family Purposes.

HAS BEEN SOLD IN ALL THE EASTERN STATES AND GIVEN UNIVERSAL satisfaction. It is highly recommended by the Faculty for all cases of Nervousness, Weakness, Debility, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, etc.

It is now introduced to the public of the Pacific Slope, endorsed by certificates of the eminent DR. J. HAYES, State Assayer of Massachusetts, and DR. H. C. LOUDERBACK of St. Louis, Mo., both gentlemen prominent in their profession, and which is a guaranty to all buyers of its purity and quality.

I can show thousands of letters from private persons, from all parts of the Union and Canada, testifying to its merits and the benefit it has afforded, as a family remedy and tonic.

Dyspepsia is called the national disease of this country, and many reasons have been given. It is frequently said that people work too much, eat too fast, sleep too little, tax the powers of nerve and brain too incessantly, drink too much ice water, eat too much hot bread, smoke too much tobacco, give way to too much excitement, and consequently play themselves out in the shortest possible time. "A short life and a merry one" seems to be the sentiment that chiefly influences a large number of persons, but for all that no person feels at ease when suffering in health. Now, however, much or little truth should be attached to the opinion of physicians who charge the great prevalence of dyspepsia and nervousness to any of the causes mentioned, it cannot be denied that there are some applications received by druggists throughout the country for medicine to relieve and cure stomach and nervous pains and disorders, and all other maladies that afflict frail humanity. As might be expected under the circumstances, a large number of specific to successfully contract these diseases have been introduced to the attention of the public, but nearly all of them have failed to do any good. Whenever, therefore, any alleged new remedial agent is spoken of, very little confidence is felt in it by reason of numerous past disappointments, so that people who are chronic sufferers from dyspepsia, indigestion, or nervousness almost despair of being cured. They, however, take too despondent a view of the matter, for those who have used the celebrated NABOB WHISKY, which can be had from all respectable druggists and grocers, know by experience that it is a sure remedy for all the maladies referred to, and that its tonic properties are of the most strengthening character. Many persons who found it impossible to properly digest a single meal, and whose physique had been sadly attenuated, have derived immediate benefit from the NABOB WHISKY, and in a short time, by its regular use, regained all their health and strength. It can be taken with impunity, as no drugs are incorporated with it, and its healthy action on the human system is at once felt. The effect which it produces on the organs of the stomach is such as to create a vigorous appetite and render digestion easy, no matter what the habits of the sufferer may be, and it at the same time steadies the nerves and stimulates the brain. There are no fictitious claims for the great remedial agent, so that all persons who are troubled with dyspepsia or nervousness would be false to themselves if they failed to test its curative qualities. It is sold rapidly on the increase, and the better it is known the more it is used.
